A MESSAGE FROM THE MAYOR

I would like to thank all Maribyrnong residents and businesses for your dedicated community spirit and cooperation during the COVID-19 restrictions over the past few months. It is heart-warming to see our community band together during this challenging time.

Council listened to community feedback on the 2020/21 Budget and resolved to set a rate increase of zero per cent. We have provided $11 million in resources and assistance to the community since April 2020 – through the initial COVID-19 relief packages, a zero rate increase, in-kind support and our expanded COVID-19 Business and Community Support packages. If you have been financially impacted by the pandemic, Council has a range of business and community support available. See pages 4 and 5 for more details about the Budget, and visit pages 6 and 7 for further information about our COVID-19 support packages.

We are proud to be providing a range of online services via our libraries and community centres, youth and arts and culture teams, many of these initiatives are featured on pages 12-13.

For parents, particularly those with young children, Maternal and Child Health services are still available via phone consultation and immunisation sessions will continue to run by appointment.

We have minimal staff still working during this time, and you may see many of our dedicated workers planting trees, cleaning the streets, fixing pathway/drainage issues or tending to our parks and gardens.

Our customer service team is also available should you have an enquiry, please email: email@maribyrnong.vic.gov.au or call 9688 0200.

In October this year, Victoria's local government elections will be held and seven Councillors will be elected to govern our City over the next four years. I encourage you get involved, learn about the candidates and cast your vote.

Council will enter an election caretaker period from Tuesday 22 September until Saturday 24 October. The Election Period Policy ensures that Council business continues throughout this period in a responsible and transparent manner. The Policy is available on Council's website.

Please stay safe and healthy.

Cr Sarah Carter
Mayor of the City of Maribyrnong

PROVIDING FINANCIAL ASSISTANCE AND CONTINUING TO DELIVER IMPORTANT COMMUNITY PROJECTS

The 2020-21 Annual Budget of $149.7 million, will continue to deliver over 60 services for the community, while also committing to a robust capital program valued at $52.241 million.

After a comprehensive community consultation process, Council set a zero per cent rate increase for the 2020-21 financial year with the adoption of the Annual Budget and Strategic Resource Plan on Tuesday 21 July.

Council had the opportunity to take up a two per cent increase to rates (in line with the rate cap set by the government), however given the impact that the COVID-19 pandemic has had on the community, the decision was made to implement a zero per cent increase.

Council has provided $6.5 million in COVID-19 support since April 2020 and is now expanding Community and Business Relief packages to provide an additional $2.5 million in support to vulnerable members of the community and businesses.

COVID-19 relief packages include:

- > A COVID-19 Financial Hardship Policy which will allow all ratepayers experiencing financial hardship to apply for an interest free payment plan or to defer their rates without penalty interest for a period up until 30 June 2021.
- > Deferral of quarterly rate payments (May and September 2020) for businesses and residents. Additionally for businesses, the May 2020 quarterly payment was discounted by 50 per cent and eligible business can receive a 25 per cent rebate on the September 2020 quarterly payment. Commercial tenants of Council owned properties affected by COVID-19 received a 50 per cent discount on rent, and lease payments can be deferred until 31 December 2020.
- > Waiving a range of planning application fees for small businesses starting up, extended to 30 June 2021.
- > Not-for-profit community rental payments have been waived, extended to December 2020.
- > Kinder central enrolment fees have been waived until the end of 2020.
- > Pet registration fees will also be waived/reimbursed for affected residents.

- > To support our local arts community, we have introduced a number of initiatives, including grants (upon application) for not-for-profit community arts organisations and Maribyrnong based arts practitioners, along with rental subsidies.
- > To support not-for-profit community sporting clubs, all lease, licence and ground fees will be waived and utility and water fees will be waived, extended to 30 June 2021.

The robust capital program will ensure the community has access to safe and sustainable infrastructure that meets the needs of the growing population.

Some of the key capital projects for 2020-21 include:

- > $12.535 million for parks, open space and streetscapes in capital and improvement works including the planting of trees in streets, boulevards, and parks across the City
- > $12.721 million to improve Council-owned roads across the City
- > $3.060 million to build and improve footpath and cycle ways
- > $1.791 million for recreational, leisure and community facilities
- > $650,000 for off street carparks and other infrastructure
- > $639,000 in waste management
- > $320,000 for city amenity
- > $80,000 for an update to the Footscray City Edge Masterplan
- > $100,000 in street furniture repair and replacement
- > $120,000 for additional drainage maintenance
- > $100,000 for the installation of green street lights

In addition to the capital works projects, a new Community Arts Grants Program will be delivered for projects run by arts organisations within the City, totalling $300,000. The Sons and Daughters of the West initiative will receive $70,000; Youth after School Initiative Braybrook will receive $33,000 and the Leaders of the Pack initiative will receive $12,000.

EXPANDED COMMUNITY AND BUSINESS COVID-19 SUPPORT

We know that many people in our community are feeling the strain of the COVID-19 pandemic, and we want to support residents and local businesses to get through this crisis and give everyone the best chance at recovery.

In order to provide further support to our community, we have expanded the COVID-19 Community and Business Relief packages to provide an additional $2.5 million in support to vulnerable members of the community and businesses. This follows $6.5 million in support since April 2020 and a zero rate rise – totalling $11 million in support.

At the Ordinary Council meeting on Tuesday 18 August 2020, Council made a decision to expand its current relief program by a further $2.5 million, including $1,934,185 to extend a range of existing support initiatives such as rate relief/deferrals; lease and license and fee reductions; fee waivers. This also includes a 25% discount on the September rates payment for eligible businesses affected by COVID-19. Visit our website for a detailed list of the expanded relief program.

Council also resolved to provide targeted relief packages for Families and Young People ($350,000), and a Business Relief Package ($271,000). The packages aim to support those most vulnerable in the community and include the following:

- > Material and Financial Aid ($150,000): In partnership with local agencies, this program will focus on material and financial aid for young people and families experiencing extreme hardship in the City of Maribyrnong. The aim of the program is to support those people in greatest need and provide additional support beyond the current capacity of other local agencies.
- > Family Violence and Mental Health ($150,000) Support and Pathways Program: The funding will enable prompt access to local mental health support services to address the needs of families and young people living in the City of Maribyrnong. This funding would particularly focus on young people experiencing family breakdown and family violence as a result of the COVID-19 pandemic.
- > Skills Development and Employment Pathway Program ($50k): The program will develop a skills pathways and mentoring network that will provide career and employment advice and skill building to support a vulnerable young people; also link participants to Federal and State Government skills and employment programs. The program aims to support people on JobSeeker benefits and other low income households to navigate future employment opportunities in the current and post COVID-19 environment.
- > Local Shopping Centre – ‘Buy local’ & ‘Activation’ Campaign ($150,000): Council’s ongoing support to our local traders and business community is vital, through promoting ‘buy local’ and ‘activation’ initiatives through a marketing campaign as well as other activation initiatives for our traders and business community.
- > Business Improvement District (BID) program ($100,000): This program aims to address the impact of COVID-19 on traders including the provision of Personal and Protective Equipment, and developing digital initiatives to support Maribyrnong traders.
- > Activating local shopping centres through COVID safe outdoor dining: COVID-19 significantly impacts the way people work, live, shop and travel, posing challenges for an effective community response to social distancing requirements. Parklets are repurposed parking bays designed to create spaces for pedestrian activity and include seating, dining areas, greenery and bike parking.
- > Improve access to local shopping centres through investment in bicycle and pedestrian infrastructure: delivered from capital, grants and Government funding.
- > Trader Association Fees Support ($21,000).

WE NEED TO WORK TOGETHER TO KEEP ALL CHILDREN SAFE AROUND WATER

In a push to keep kids safer around water, the Victorian State Government has introduced new legislation that requires owners of swimming pools and spas in Victoria to register their pool or spa with their local Council by 1 November 2020.

The new laws are in response to more than 27 children drowning in private swimming pools and spas since 2000. In at least 20 of those cases, non-compliance of the safety barrier is likely to have played a role.

Owners should also:

- > ensure the gate is closed whenever someone enters or exits the pool area
- > remove any objects from around the barrier that young children could use to climb over the barrier into the pool or spa area

- > ensure that self-latching devices are installed on the gate and are working properly
- > repair or replace any component of the barrier that isn't working properly
- > ensure there are no gaps in barriers that would allow a young child to access the pool area.

Owners are required to have their pool or spa barrier inspected every four years. Following inspection, residents will need to lodge their compliance certificate with Council.

For more information or to register your pool or spa, visit our website maribyrnong.vic.gov.au or the Victorian Building Authority at vba.vic.gov.au/consumers/swimming-pools

ABORIGINAL CREATOR AND EDUCATOR
NATHALIE MCLEAN IS USING STORYTELLING
TO TEACH THE NEXT GENERATION ABOUT
THE OLDEST CULTURE
IN THE WORLD

After travelling to Paris to start an artistic residency, Nat found herself being evacuated at the start of the global coronavirus pandemic, flying home to Australia on her 30th birthday just 48 hours after arriving, with her plans for 2020 up in the air.

What she didn't know at the time was that the COVID-19 restrictions in Australia would mean her creative practice would need to adapt, which has resulted in Nat reaching more people than she ever expected.

Community is something that Nathalie McLean (Nat) loves most about Melbourne's inner west, which for those who live in Maribyrnong, will come as no surprise.

Originally from Meeanjin (Brisbane), Gubbi Gubbi, Kullali and Wakka Wakka woman Nat moved to Naarm (Melbourne) in 2012, and quickly found herself calling Maribyrnong home.

"I originally decided to move to Melbourne because it has always been seen as an amazing cultural hub. Maribyrnong was the first place that I moved to when I came to Melbourne."

"Living in the west is like a little piece of home right near the heart of the city. There's cafes, delicious food, and of course the beautiful river that winds through this part of country. It really is a home away from home for me."

After starting tertiary degrees in Journalism, Education and Psychology, Nat ended up completing a Bachelor of Creative Arts Industries at Victoria University.

"The thing that always stood out to me about a creative career was the fact that I could use the best of both worlds that I live in. Being Indigenous, but also having my non-Indigenous background [Nat's father is Scottish], I felt like being a creator was going to help me tie a lot of things together in my life."

Another driving force for Nat wanting to pursue a creative career was her mum, who was a curator for the Queensland Art Gallery when Nat was a child.

"I was drawn to performing and visual arts as a child, and my mum was always really encouraging of my creative pursuits as a child and that only grew into adulthood."

A big part of what inspires Nat in her creative pursuits is her family, who have helped fuel her passion for storytelling.

"My family passed down teachings and stories as I was growing up, and we hold roles and responsibilities in our clans and in our tribes. I am learning a lot of the stories and I have, in a way, become a story keeper for my family."

And it is these stories that Nat is now sharing with our youngest people.

"Before I moved to Melbourne, I started studying primary education because I always wanted to be an educator or a teacher of some kind, but I didn't want to be in the education system. During that time, I discovered that there is a huge need for curriculum based information for teachers that can be used as teaching tools that relate to Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander culture.

By combining her creative skills and her passion for education and storytelling, Nat started her own cultural educating business, Junjurri Workshop, as a way to teach the next generation about the world's oldest culture.

The workshops that Nat runs are interactive art and storytelling workshops developed to teach primary school students all about Indigenous culture and history through dance, art and singing.

"It's been a wonderful experience for me and a great way to stay connected to my culture while living so far away from home. I also saw a need for great educational content related to Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander people and culture so I went forward and combined all of my skills and it just took off from there.

"I have continued to learn my language and then put it into the work I am doing, so that my language and the language of my people won't be forgotten."

She hopes that by sharing her stories and her language, she can instil a sense of respect, responsibility and pride in all children.

"It's important for young people in our country to learn about Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander people and culture because we are the caretakers for this land. The more they know about other cultures and people, the more they can be educated and informed adults."

As a way to expand her workshops so that a larger part of the community could access them, Nat applied for Council's First Nations Creative Projects Initiative, a program designed to give professional Indigenous artists the opportunity to lead the creation and development of a new work anywhere in the municipality. Nat was successful in her application and became the first person to be a recipient of the Initiative.

“It's been such an amazing experience and a very challenging one because of COVID.”

"I had originally planned an outdoor event for the end of this year, as well as NAIDOC week events for hundreds of kids but instead I had the opportunity to do something I've wanted to do for a long time which was turn my workshops into an exciting online educational program."

The result is Junjurri TV, a series of online educational videos that teaches children about Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander culture.

"Because I've managed to adapt and overcome despite the times, I've ended up reaching hundreds more children and educators than I ever would have expected.

Despite moving to an online format, Nat has still been able to involve other First Nations artists and creators in the project, including Sermsah Bin Saad (dancer) and Emily Wurraramara (singer/songwriter).

"The feedback has been phenomenal and so incredibly positive across the board so I'm over the moon."

Although Nat's original plans for 2020 didn't quite work out, she's incredibly proud of the work she's doing and the children she's able to reach through Junjurri TV, and hopes to be able to get back to Paris to complete her artist residency and see the Eiffel Tower soon.
